

THE MIKEY'S STORY

In 2000, Lansing Ophthalmology surgeon Thomas Moore, M.D., saw a special patient - Michaela Hagemann - whose parents had nicknamed "Mikey". Mikey - who was born with Down's Syndrome - was in her early forties, surpassing her anticipated life expectancy. Although Mikey had developed cataracts, several other doctors had indicated a reluctance to perform cataract surgery, due to anticipated limited benefits. However, when the Hagemanns brought Mikey to Dr. Moore he told them that having Mikey enjoy a high quality of life far outweighed any reason not to undergo surgery. Dr. Moore successfully performed cataract surgery on Mikey, and the results helped her enjoy her time through her last days. Mikey passed away in January of 2003.

In 2004, Lansing Ophthalmology physicians and staff, along with Mikey's parents James and Pauline, established a permanent endowment fund - Mikey's Fund - that will help pay for the out-of-pocket costs (e.g., operating room charges, surgical supplies, eyeglasses, etc.) associated with the free medical care provided by Lansing Ophthalmology personnel. Lansing Ophthalmology and the Hagemann family have made substantial contributions to Mikey's Fund.

James Hagemann passed away in early 2005 and never saw what wonderful things the Mikey's Fund has accomplished.
